ASCP H.P. Smith Award for Distinguished Pathology Educator

This award honors ASCP Fellow members who have had distinguished careers in pathology and laboratory medicine embracing education, research and administration, as well as service to organized pathology.

This annual award was established in 1974 in honor of Dr. H. P. Smith. Dr. H. P. Smith became a Fellow of the ASCP in 1940. He served on the Executive Committee, became President-Elect and President during the years of 1957-59. He also served on the Master Program Planning Committee, 1958; Research Committee, 1959; as ASCP Representative to the American Medical Association, 1959-63; Plan and Scope Committee, 1960-62; Director of Library, 1961-64; Chairman of History of ASCP Committee, 1962; Librarian-Archivist, 1965-68; Archives Committee, 1972. His honors include the ASCP Ward Burdick Award in 1941, and he was the first recipient of the Joint ASCP/CAP Distinguished Service Award in 1965.
