

ASCP is pleased to have a number of prestigious awards to recognize achievements of its members. The awards listed below are presented each year at the Annual Meeting.

To submit a recommendation, complete this form for each nomination you wish to make. Indicate the award for which you are submitting a nomination and tell the Awards Committee about the individual's qualifications and why you believe s/he deserves an award. Nominees must be an ASCP member.

Name of Nominee: _____

Address of Nominee: _____

Recommended for consideration for the following award(s):

- Ward Burdick Award for Distinguished Service to Pathology
This award honors Fellow members who have made a significant contribution to pathology through sustained service to the profession and the ASCP. The award was established in 1929 to honor Ward Burdick, MD, FASCP one of the original founders of the ASCP.
- Philip Levine Award for Outstanding Research
This award honors ASCP members who have made a significant contribution to molecular pathology, immunohematology, and/or immunopathology. This award was established in 1969 to honor the late Phillip Levine, MD, FASCP, who made many contributions to pathology, including determining the etiology of Rh hemolytic disease of newborns.
- Israel Davidsohn Award for Distinguished Service
This award honors Fellow members who have participated significantly in a variety of roles within the ASCP throughout their careers. This award, established in 1989, serves as a tribute to Israel Davidsohn, MD, FASCP whose contributions touched every aspect of ASCP. Dr. Davidsohn served as ASCP President in 1951-52.
- H.P. Smith Award for Distinguished Pathology Educator
This award honors ASCP Fellow members who have had distinguished careers in pathology and laboratory medicine embracing education, research and administration, as well as service to organized pathology. The award was initiated in 1974 and honors the former ASCP president, H.P. Smith, MD, FASCP.

On a separate sheet of paper, please explain why this individual should be recognized and provide examples of his/her contributions/performance.

Additional letters of support from a pathologist, laboratory administrator or manager, immediate supervisor, student, graduate, faculty member, or peer are strongly encouraged. Please be sure all letters of support include the nominees name and award.

Your name: _____

Phone _____ e-mail: _____

Return this nomination form and any additional documentation to:
ASCP Awards Chair, c/o Lucy Beck, ASCP, 33 West Monroe St., Suite 1600, Chicago, IL 60603
E-mail: lucy.beck@ascp.org Fax: 312.541.4767

For consideration for a 2012 Award, please submit nominations by March 2, 2012